Ryan & Maniskas, LLP

Firm Profile

Ryan & Maniskas, LLP is a boutique litigation law firm with a national practice dedicated to protecting shareholders' interests and promoting improved corporate governance practices. Ryan & Maniskas was founded by its two principals, Katharine M. Ryan and Richard A. Maniskas in March 2010 and together they bring over 35 years of prior experience in securities class and derivative actions.

Ryan & Maniskas is committed to protecting the interests of shareholders in class and derivative actions in state and federal courts nationwide. The firm focuses primarily on challenges to board/management misconduct in connection with corporate mergers and acquisitions, in order to protect shareholders' interests. Often takeover proposals are approved by board of directors without them properly shopping the corporation for the best price or providing shareholders with adequate information to make an informed decision.

The firm also initiates actions by shareholders on behalf of corporations against officers, directors and other parties responsible for corporate wrongdoing. The firm is dedicated to pursuing remedial recoveries which improve shareholder value and prevent corporate mismanagement, including the adoption of corporate therapeutic measures, corporate governance policies and procedures, and the hiring of audit committee consultants to redress inadequacies.

The Firm is committed to practicing law with the highest level of integrity and in an ethical and professional manner. We are a diverse firm. Evaluations are never influenced by one's background, gender, race, religion or ethnicity.

PRACTICE AREAS

Class Action Litigation

We are committed to the representation of plaintiffs in securities and consumer fraud litigation. The Firm files these cases as class actions, meaning that the selected representatives of a group of similarly-situated persons assert claims against corporations to recover damages for the class as a whole. Aggregating the claims of many injured individuals in a class action makes particular sense where the harm to any one person is insufficient to justify extremely costly litigation against a well-funded defendant.

Merger & Acquisition Litigation

In this type of litigation, shareholders can assert claims against officers and directors of a company for violating their fiduciary duties in connection with corporate transactions. In such circumstances, the goals of the litigation can be to increase the deal price, compel the public disclosure of important facts to assist investors in deciding whether to approve the deal, and/or to improve deal terms to ensure fairness and eliminate coercion.

Ryan & Maniskas, LLP served as Co-Lead Counsel and has obtained significant additional disclosures of material information so that shareholders can intelligently determine the fairness of the terms of the proposal in Irving M. Pincus V. Healthtronics, Inc., et al. Cause No. D-1- GN-2010-001493 (Dist. Ct. Tex. Travis Cty.); In Re SonicWall, Inc. Shareholder Litigation C.A. 1:10-CV-173966 (Sup. Ct. Cal. Santa Clara Cty.); and In Re Hawk Corporation Shareholders Litigation C.A. NO. 5925- VCL (Del Ch.). Ryan & Maniskas, LLP is currently serving as Co-Lead Counsel in In Re Wilmington Trust Corporation Shareholders Litigation C.A. No. 5958-VCL (Del.Ch.) and serves on the Executive Committee in In Re Massey Energy Company Derivative and Class Action Litigation Case No. 5430-VCS and Forgo V. HealthGrades, et al., C.A. No. 5716-VCS (Del. Ch.)

Securities Class Action Litigation

In federal securities fraud class action litigation, investors injured because of wrongful conduct, including the dissemination of fraudulent statements to the investing public, can sue to recover the difference between the fraudulently inflated price of their shares and its true market value. In addition to recouping investor losses, securities fraud litigation also can produce significant corporate governance reforms designed to deter and reduce repeated misconduct.

Ryan & Maniskas, LLP currently serves as co-lead counsel in Hill v. China Biotics, Inc., et al, Case No. 1:10cv07838-PAC (SDNY).

Shareholder Derivative Litigation

A derivative lawsuit is brought by a shareholder of a corporation on the corporation's behalf. Such cases usually involve claims of mismanagement, waste of corporate assets, or self-dealing, and often involve claims against the officers or directors of the corporation. Shareholder derivative litigation often is necessary because the corporation, which is run by officers and directors, cannot bring suit against one of its own, even if serious wrongdoing has occurred. Any benefit from a derivative suit goes directly to the company, which could positively affect the company's share price, thereby benefiting all of its current shareholders.

Ryan & Maniskas, LLP is currently serving on the Executive Committee in In Re BP Shareholder Derivative Litigation, C.A. No. 4:10-md-2185 (S.D. Tex.) (over the explosion of the Deepwater Horizon oil rig in the Gulf of Mexico) and is Co-Lead counsel in In Re Coinstar, Inc. Derivative Litig., C.A. No. 11-2-08511-2 (Sup.Ct.Wash. King Cty.).

ERISA Litigation

The firm also represents plan participants in ERISA suits against companies whose 401(k) plans have suffered losses as the result of fiduciary breaches and/or misconduct.

PARTNERS
